				SUMMER VACATION!!

Oh, the games people play now . . . Every night and Every day now . . .

Never meaning what they say now . . . Never saying what they mean.

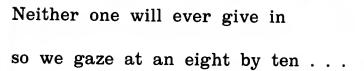

And they while away the hours in their ivory towers till they're covered up with flowers in the back of a black limousine.

Oh, we make one another cry Break a heart then we say goodbye . . .

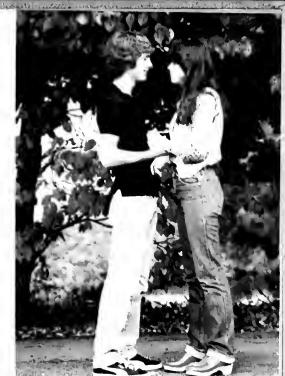

Cross our hearts and we hope to die that the other was to blame.

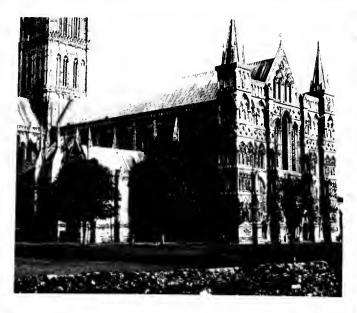

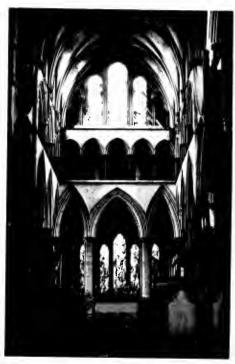

Thinking about the things that might have been . . . It's a dirty rotten shame.

People walking up to you singing Glory Hallelujah! And they're trying to sock it to you in the name of the Lord . . .

They gonna teach you how to meditate.

Read your horoscope - cheat your fate . . . And furthermore, to hell with hate.

Come on, get aboard!

Look around, tell me what you see.
What's happening to you and me?

God grant me the serenity to remember who I am.

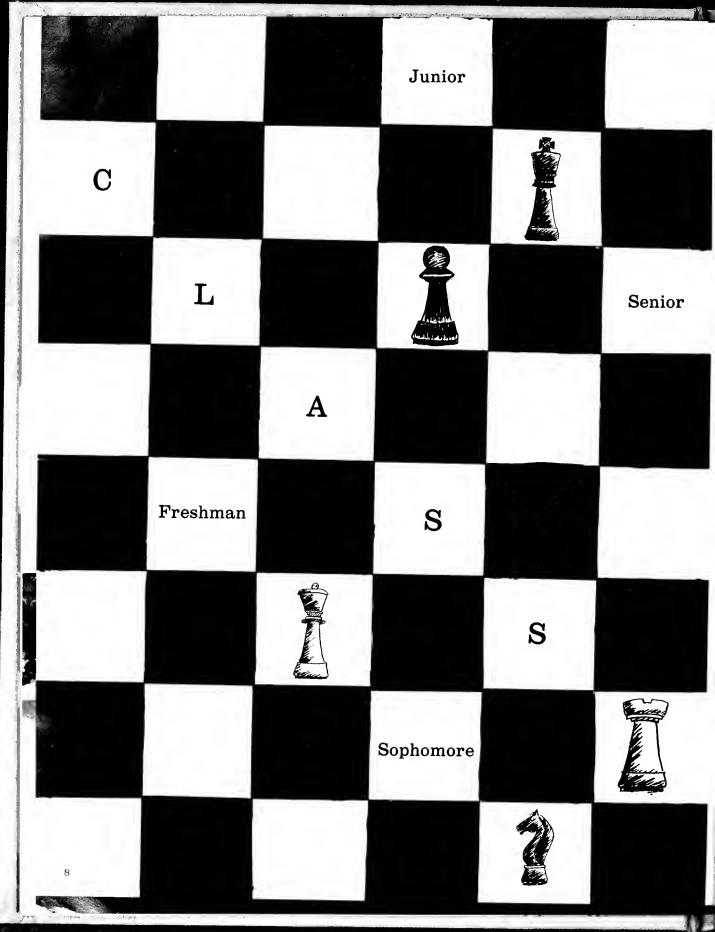

Turn your back on humanity and don't give a . . .

Earth, my likeness,
Though you look so impassive, ample and spheric there,
I now suspect that is not all;
I now suspect there is something fierce in you eligible to burst forth,
For an athlete is enamour'd of me, and I of him,
But toward him there is something fierce and terrible in me
eligible to burst forth,
I dare not tell it in words, not even in these songs.

David McLean, affectionately known as "Doc", was a unique individual and one that will be sorely missed here at St. Andrews. To his students, he was a friend who was truly dedicated to his vocation. To his fellow faculty-members, he was an inspiration to the goals that educators hope to achieve. An ordained Presbyterian minister, Dr. McLean, was a server of his fellow men which was proven time and time again throughout his productive life. He spent many years in Africa working as a missionary among the natives. A former student, Carol Sue Moffett, recalls Dr. McLean as an individual who ". . . provoked (his students) to think and challenged (them) to take a stand on what (they) believed in. . . "He will long be remembered by the St. Andrews community as the genius behind the successful Sociology and Anthropology Department.

TEACHING

No man can reveal to you aught but that which already lies half asleep in the dawning of your knowledge.

The teacher who walks in the shadow of the temple, among his followers, gives not of his wisdom but rather of his faith and his lovingness.

If he indeed wise he does not bid you enter the house of his wisdom, but rather leads you to the threshold of your own mind.

The astronomer may speak to you of his understanding of space, but he cannot give you his understanding.

The musician may sing to you of the rhythm which is in all space, but he cannot give you the ear which arrests the rhythm nor the voice that echoes it.

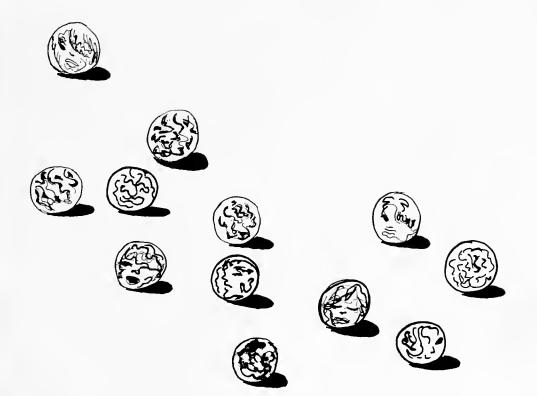

And he who is versed in the science of numbers can tell of the regions of weight and measure, but he cannot conduct you thither

For the vision of one man lends not its wings to another man.

And even as each one of you stands alone in God's knowledge, so must each one of you be alone in his knowledge of God and in his understanding of the earth.

In the beginning there were coacervates: first, there was Leon, and then there was Michael. One day these little fellas were floating around in the primordial soup-otherwise known as Lake Moore-when they bumped into another coacervate: Norm. Now these three have become S.A.P.'s (St. Andrews Profs).

HISTORY

St. Andrews possesses one of the most challenging and diverse history departments in the Southeast. Usually, when students visualize a course in history, they picture a 1298- page volume loaded with names, dates, and locations. But at St. Andrews, history becomes much more-history comes alive!

"Freshman Plea"

"MotherWby did you send me here
With all these preps
And books and things
Some like me will make it true
But others will be lost So lost Father Can I please go home now
School is school
But I've had enough
I'd rather be home playing basketball
Or playing in the sand with my truck - . . ."

"You're MY roommate!!"

Hey, Sunghe, guess you heard about the food!

"Where did you put all this stuff in your room?" 125

Riding Club

Do you have to do it like that?

The riding club, one of St. Andrews more intriguing units, extends the relationship between the outdoors, man and his animals. Each year the riding club goes to competition inviting more to join them in the venture to master the art of horseback riding.

Is that something or is that something?

Don't worry - it's "Wonder Woman" to the rescue.

College Republicans

These politically minded young people, joined by the central belief in the republican government represent the Republican Party each year at elections and other political affairs.

Black Student Union

The BSU distinguishes the black involvement in school activities and community efforts. Formal displays of its Black culture are easily recognized by its concerts, recitals and other activities.

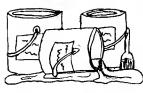

Art Squad

The art squad provides the students and the community with an opportunity to view various art exhibits. Annually they plan a Hat Day & Boogie for the campus.

I really don't think an apple looks like that.

"WRONG BUCKO!"

George Anderson, V.P.; Gail Hutchinson Pres.

Enter the zany, crazy world of the Juggling Club which is open to any student who enjoys doing something a little out of the ordinary, yet has the patience to learn the skills of this ancient art form. So you better watch them they'll juggle anything they get their hands on . . .

The wall displays Hat Day.

"I'm a wild and crazy professor."

Hats And Shades Boogie

November has national Hat Day in it, which is celebrated in a zany fashion each year. Students and professors wear their favorite or created hats all day and end it with a dance that night. The Art Squad provides everything for the dance, even wall space to show off one's artistic talents.

"Joy you know you Lovett!!"

"Drinking on the job?"

"Through An Eagle's Eye"

I have watched you people
Blind yourselves with laws and governs
Trick yourselves with threats of politics
Guard Yourselves with false morals and their pressures

And whip yourselves with your own rules to be And I look up to the heavens and say "God it's good to be free To be free."

You band yourselves from yourselves in haste And lock out one from his motherland But whom of you deserves such fate? You hold hostage even your very own people And drain their hearts and hands So I say,

"God let me fly among the heavens
Let me soar over land and sea
Let me walk upon the open road
Because it is good to be free
To be free!"

Carol Moffett, Departing Senior

You have lots of dreams I know
Now it's the close of the show,
let's hope it all passes by in the end,
So get yourself along
your my best friend.

"My Best Friend" by Air Supply; 1980 Through the many trying hours of seemingly unfulfilling efforts this staff has strived to produce the 1980-81 Lamp & Shield. The production of this yearbook would have been impossible without the aid of each and every one of the staff no matter how large or small their part. Even though we were unable to cover every aspect of this campus, the efforts of our staff weighted against the even larger student body gave a respectable result. Our efforts were great but without the support of many people this yearbook would not have been a success. We would like to express our deepest gratification for:

- the support of our advertisers
- the patients of our professors in tolerating the days that our brains had been left lieing on the layout pages and in the darkroom after an all night session
- the support of the students for making the pictures possible
- the endurance of our room & suite mates through the many frantic moments and outrageous stacks of layouts and photos that managed to spread themselves throughout every conceivable space
- the advice of our advisor Craig Smith, when we needed it
- the aid of the various campus offices
- the contributions, from students, of pictures and last but not least
- the dedication of our staff.

We would like to give special thanks to one another for the patience and toleration of one anothers demands. Even when the Editor demanded the pictures yesterday.

We hope that our efforts have been as meaningful to you as they have been to us. Our efforts seemed many even when others cooperation seemed few, but this did not dampen our spirits as we strived toward our goal, the completion of the L & S.

If you find yourself browsing through the contents of this book time & time again reflecting on your past, then we can easily, and with great pride, say that we accomplished the task that we set out to do. Enjoy it, cherish it, and let the memories live on forever.
